THE CLARET JUG

The Golf Champion Trophy, now commonly referred to as the Claret Jug, was made by Mackay Cunningham & Company of Edinburgh and was hallmarked 1873. The first Champion Golfer to receive the new trophy was the 1873 winner, Tom Kidd, but Tom Morris Jr’s name was the first to be engraved on it as the 1872 winner.

ENGRAVERS

at The Open

The engraver's art is all about precision and the finest detail. It is a silver service – premium, polished, select – demanding grace under pressure to deliver the highest quality workmanship when the winner is known and the world is watching. The Champion Golfer of the Year lifts the Claret Jug, but only the engraver is entrusted to leave their mark on it.

Fine dining and silver service in a refined atmosphere

Engravers is one of our most exclusive, polished experiences at The 153rd Open. You and your guests can indulge in the finest hospitality whilst enjoying all the action away from the crowds within this spacious and premium setting.

"Probably the most difficult name I ever had to tackle was Mark Calcavecchia at Troon. I made sure I checked that out a few times!"

CLUBMAKERS

at The Open

The clubmaker's expertise has been sought after since The Open began in 1860. Cutting-edge technology and high-tech materials now define the modern game, but their craft continues to be inspired by the heritage and values of the past. CADDIES

at The Open

A profession that is older than The Open itself. Indeed, the first Championship at Prestwick in 1860 was contested by eight “respected caddies” and respect for the top caddies in the modern game is now greater than ever. In the know on the course, they are a player’s confidant, their support, a trusted ally. A calming presence or a motivational spark, they judge the mood and gauge the weather. In a sport of individuals, the caddie is the partner no player would want to be without.

Premium grazing in the heart of the action

Caddies has an informal style, providing a comfortable base for your day at The Open, whilst still offering a host of premium benefits in a spacious and relaxed environment.

Located on the lower level of the 2nd hole, with access to the upper viewing deck, Caddies offers prime views of the course, where you can catch the best players in the world in action as they tackle the challenging par 3, 3rd hole.

SCORERS

at The Open

Every shot logged. Fairways hit or missed, clubs used off the tee and to the green. The drives, the chips, the putts. Scores recorded, checked, signed for. A numbers game with its own language. At the first Open in 1860, competitors' scores were scrutinised and written down by their gentlemen backers and independent markers. Digital hand-held devices are now the tool of the scorer's trade. Yet echoes of the past remain. On the 18th green, the sound of the scores being manually updated on the giant leaderboard recalls the origins of The Open.

72

Hearty classics served up in a stylish and relaxed environment

Scorers is a stylish introduction to sporting hospitality at The Open. Guests have the opportunity to soak up all the action in a fun, festival style atmosphere.

Located on the 1st hole, with fantastic views of the par 4 1st hole, Scorers is the perfect base for the day to return to after following the world's best golfers around the challenging links course.

The bistro-style fare and flexible layout of this experience makes it the perfect setting for businesses looking to entertain guests in a relaxed, spacious environment or for golf fans looking to enhance their day in a purpose-built facility.

For those looking to have a reserved table for the entire day, you can upgrade to Scorers Premium and a private area within Scorers with its own private bar. This is only available for groups of 10.

OUR ICONIC LEADERBOARDS

Pupils from the boarding schools of Charterhouse and Cranleigh manually operated the two leaderboards at the 18th green from 1979. Assisted by real-time digital scorekeeping, the students changed the names, scores, and positions by hand. For four decades, posting a leaderboard update first was a true matter of pride.

“The whole experience was just marvellous. A sporting memory that will last forever.”
